Birthday Wishes . . .
- August 18 – Misty Harmon, Extension Educator, FCS, Perry County

Director's Drop-In . . . (Source: Roger Rennekamp)
Thanks to all who helped us celebrate Ohio Local Foods Week on August 7-13. It was great to see so many activities going on across the state to promote the use of local foods. Kudos to the Local Foods signature program team – led by Heather Neikirk, ANR educator in Stark County, and Patrice Powers-Barker, FCS educator in Lucas County – for their outstanding preparation for the week, excellent marketing of the event, development of numerous materials for our own personnel and consumers, and helping to coordinate countless efforts with statewide and local partners.

The toolkit, event listing, and celebration suggestion list were all tremendous resources – not to mention the $10 local foods challenge. If you haven't checked out http://localfoods.osu.edu/ohio-local-foods-week yet, make some time to review this info on the Local Foods website. Thanks also to the Local Foods team for keeping local foods top-of-mind with resources online (http://localfoods.osu.edu) and being very visible year-round.

New Account Protection for Employee Self Service Starting September 12, 2016 . . . (Source: Matt DeVore)

“Hacker steals teacher’s direct deposit paycheck: University says too bad so sad.”
The above headline is from an actual event that took place at Western Michigan University and has been duplicated at other institutions such as the University of Kansas and Boston University.

Over the past few years, OSU has seen phishing (the activity of defrauding an online account holder of financial information by posing as a legitimate entity) and identity theft crimes increase in the Higher Education sector. At universities which were hit first, some employees who have been taken in by phishing emails have had their pay checks rerouted away from their banks to accounts controlled by cybercriminals. Word spread quickly among Higher Education security experts, and by being aware and knowing what to look for, we have so far been able to prevent similar results at Ohio State.

The BuckeyePass system is one of many steps taken to assist in securing your information.

Beginning September 12, 2016, BuckeyePass will be protecting all our employees personal data found in Employee Self Service. Among other things, Employee Self Service allows you to update your personal data including the bank routing information for the direct deposit of your pay. CFAES Leadership recommends that you register for BuckeyePass before September 12, 2016 to ensure you are able to access your HR information without disruption. If you have not done so by the time BuckeyePass goes live on September 12, 2016, you will not be able to access your information in Employee Self Service until you complete the registration process.

Please refer to OSU’s BuckeyePass Knowledge Base for detailed instructions on how to register for BuckeyePass. If you have any questions during the process of registering for BuckeyePass, please contact the CFAES IT Help Desk or 8HELP.

As mentioned in the headline noted above, the successful phishing attempt resulted in a financial loss for the individual who responded to the phishing attack. If you receive an email which doesn’t look right or you have doubt as to its legitimacy, please contact CFAES’ Information Security Officer (Rob Clifford, Clifford.158). Do not respond to or click on any links within the email. You may also forward the suspicious email to report-phish@osu.edu. As a reminder, Ohio State will never call or email you asking for your password or any other credential. Do not provide this information if requested.
Call for Proposals...

National Urban Extension Conference . . . (Source: Julie Fox)

Engaging in Collective Purpose
2017 Urban Extension Conference
Bloomington, MN

The University of Minnesota Extension and the National Urban Extension Leaders are pleased to jointly announce a call for proposals for the National Urban Extension Conference on “Engaging in Collective Purpose,” which will be held in Bloomington, Minnesota, May 7-11, 2017.

Deadline for Submission of Proposals is September 30, 2016

Read the full call for proposals and submission instructions here: https://sites.google.com/a/umn.edu/urbanextensionconference2017/call-for-proposals

Visit the conference website for more details at: https://sites.google.com/a/umn.edu/urbanextensionconference2017/index

Some of the most pressing social problems and policy issues confronting America and the rest of the world involve urban people and places. Extension professionals across the nation are working in and across various program areas to address these issues. However, urban settings are often competitive environments for Extension educators, so novel approaches to programming are increasingly necessary in order for Extension to gain and maintain its place as a premier institution for the betterment of urban individuals, families, and communities.

The National Urban Extension Conference provides an opportunity for Extension professionals to learn first-hand about these innovative approaches from their colleagues and receive inspiration for their work at home. Now is the time for a new dialogue to integrate urban Extension scholarship and practice and to define the role that Extension will play in engaging in collective purpose.

The conference will provide opportunities for Extension professionals from all program areas to share their research and innovative educational strategies that address the needs of urban, suburban, and peri-urban populations as well as urban-rural interdependencies. The program planning committee plans for participants to learn about cutting edge research and to see innovative outreach efforts that successfully transfer research-based information to various urban clientele. Proposals may be for presentations, workshops, posters, and panels (defined below) for the 2017 Conference. Abstracts that highlight research and/or outreach activities that involve partnerships between practitioners and Extension professionals are especially encouraged. We are also looking for innovative ideas that are just that, ideas; which can be presented in an Ignite format.

NCR-SARE Announces 2017 Call for Partnership Grant Proposals . . . (Source: Mike Hogan)

The 2017 North Central Region Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education Program (NCR-SARE) Partnership Grant Program Call for Proposals is now available online at http://www.northcentralsare.org/Grants/Our-Grant-Programs/Partnership-Grant-Program
NCR-SARE’s Partnership Grant program is intended to foster cooperation between agriculture professionals and small groups of farmers and ranchers to catalyze on-farm research, demonstration, and education activities related to sustainable agriculture.

Individual grants are limited to $30,000. NCR-SARE expects to fund about 10 projects in the twelve-state North Central Region with this call. A total of approximately $300,000 is available for this program.

NCR-SARE will be accepting online submissions for the Partnership Grant Program. More information about the online submission system can be found in the call for proposals. The deadline for Partnership Program proposals is October 27, 2016 at 4pm CDT.

NCR-SARE administers each of its grant programs with specific goals, audiences, and timelines. Funding considerations are based on how well the applicant presents the problem being addressed, its relevance to sustainable agriculture in the 12-state North Central region, and how well it aligns with NCR-SARE’s goals.

Funding decisions are made by a regional Administrative Council (AC), with review from a Technical Committee. The Administrative Council is a collection of producers, university representatives, nonprofit group interests, Extension and NRCS people, other government employees, and agribusiness representatives. This group sets research priorities and recommends projects for funding.

Each state in SARE’s North Central Region has one or more State Sustainable Agriculture Coordinators who can provide information and assistance to potential grant applicants. Interested applicants can find their State Sustainable Agriculture Coordinator online at http://www.northcentralsare.org/State-Programs.

For questions or additional information regarding the Partnership Grant Program, contact Beth Nelson or Rob Myers at bethnelson@umn.edu or myersrob@missouri.edu

NCR-SARE Announces 2017 Youth Educator Sustainable Agriculture Grants . . . (Source: Mike Hogan)

Youth Educator Grant projects provide opportunities for youth in the North Central Region to learn more about sustainable agriculture (farming and ranching that is ecologically sound, profitable, and socially responsible). Educators use the grants to encourage young people and their parents to try sustainable practices and see sustainable agriculture as a viable career option. Projects should help youth discover that sustainable farming and ranching is profitable; good for families, communities, and their quality of life; and good for the environment long term. The maximum amount for grants is $2,000, and a total of approximately $20,000 is available for this program.

NCR-SARE will be accepting online submissions for the Youth Educator Grant Program. More information about the online submission system can be found in the call for proposals.

Interested applicants can find the call for proposals online as well as useful information for completing a proposal at http://www.northcentralsare.org/Grants/Our-Grant-Programs/Youth-Educator-Grant-Program. You can find more information about sustainability at http://www.sare.org/ and in the Youth Education Topic Room at: http://www.sare.org/Learning-Center/Topic-Rooms/Youth-Education.

Proposals are due by November 10, 2016 at 4pm CST.
Potential applicants with questions can contact Joan Benjamin, Associate Regional Coordinator and Youth Educator Grant Program Coordinator, at benjaminj@lincolnu.edu or 573-681-5545 or 800-529-1342. Applicants should also contact Joan Benjamin if they need a hard copy or an email version of the call for proposals. There are revisions to the calls for proposals each year, which means it is crucial to use the most recent call for proposals.

Each state in SARE’s North Central Region has one or more State Sustainable Agriculture Coordinators who can provide information and assistance to potential grant applicants. Interested applicants can find their State Sustainable Agriculture Coordinator online at http://www.northcentralsare.org/State-Programs.

Required Training for Principal Investigators . . . (Source: CFAES Weekly News Digest)

A new training requirement will go into effect on October 1, 2016, that will impact your continued access to information in the PI Portal.

The Office of the CIO recently revised the Institutional Data Policy that classifies all university records and data as public, internal, private or restricted. Some data related to research grants falls into the restricted category – specifically voucher/invoice images displayed in the PI Portal and the Subaward Invoice Approval (SIA) application. Additional controls will be required for access to restricted data, including completion of the university’s Institutional Data Policy Training.

What does this mean for you?

- As of October 1, 2016, in accordance with university data security policy, access to voucher/images will be removed in the PI Portal and SIA for all users pending completion of the required Institutional Data Policy Training.
- In order to retain access to this information, all principal investigators must complete the online training by September 30, 2016. Instructions for enrolling in the training are available on the CIOs website. The course and assessment will take about 40 minutes to complete.
